

Mary Gossler Is Wedded to Sidney Hughes

Large Reception Follows in the Home of the Bride's Mother; Honeymoon Is To Be Spent in Virginia

Phillips - Jesup Nuptials

Miss Whiting Becomes the Wife of Edward A. Lyon; Engagements Announced

Miss Mary Gossler, daughter of Mrs. M. Clavin Gossler, was married yesterday afternoon in the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church to Sidney W. Hughes. The church was decorated with palms, bay trees, ferns, apple blossoms and roses.

Similar decorations were used in the home of Mrs. Gossler, 9 East Thirtieth Street, where a reception was held. The ceremony was performed by the assistant pastor, the Rev. Dr. Alfred Palmer. The bride, who was given away by her father, Philip G. Gossler, wore a gown of white satin and rose point lace, with a court train of satin, over which fell the tulle veil. She carried white orchids, lilies-of-the-valley and orange blossoms.

Miss Katherine Gossler was her sister's maid of honor, and the other attendants were Mrs. William Chappell, Mrs. Solon Kelly, Miss Gertrude Reutter and Miss Ursula Cockendall. They were all attired alike in orchid colored taffeta, trimmed with French blue tulle, with hats of fine straw, trimmed with the same combination of colors. They carried spring flowers.

Frederick Roosevelt Loney was best man, and the ushers were Carlton Aborn, William Chappell, Philip Gossler, Rutherford Hopkins, Marvin Scudder and Philip von der Smith, a cousin of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughes will spend their honeymoon at Hot Springs, Va., and on their return will live at 152 West Fifty-eighth Street.

Miss Claire Elizabeth Phillips, daughter of Mrs. Marshall Phillips, of this city, formerly of Baltimore, became the bride of Edward Nelson Jesup yesterday afternoon in the Church of the Heavenly Rest. The ceremony was performed by the rector, the Rev. Herbert Shipman, and a reception followed at 70 West Forty-sixth Street.

The bride, who was given away by her brother, Marshall Phillips, was dressed in white satin and point lace, wore a tulle veil and carried white orchids and lilies-of-the-valley. Her only attendant was Miss Carolyn Tillingham, March, of South Orange, N. J. She was in pink taffeta, wore a large Lehorn hat and carried a bouquet of larkspurs and snapdragons.

Dr. A. Russell Starr Jr., a brother-in-law of the bridegroom, served as best man, and the ushers were Donald Durant, Stewart Royden Reed, De Beyer Seeley and William Pitt, of this city; Harold Ash Phillips, brother of the bride, of Baltimore, and Charles Dexter Wiswell, of Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesup will live at Shipman Point, Conn.

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Whiting, daughter of Mr. Alexander Whiting, of Chicago, to Edward Arthur Lyon, of New York, took place at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. William Borden, 182 West Fifty-eighth Street.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Kirkland Huske, of All Saints' Parish, Great Neck, Long Island, in the presence of a few intimate friends and relatives. The bride wore a gown of white satin with pearl trimmings, a tulle veil, and carried white orchids and lilies-of-the-valley.

Miss Joyce Borden, the bride's cousin, was her only attendant. Charles Colton Lawrence was best man and the ushers were Hilary R. Chambers Jr. and William Lyon, a cousin of the bridegroom.

Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Ridgely, of 266 Berkeley Place, Brooklyn, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Claudia Irene Ridgely, to Albert E. Winger. The wedding will take place early in June. Miss Ridgely comes from an old Maryland family, being a cousin of former Governor Brown of Maryland and a niece of the former Comptroller of the Treasury, William B. Ridgely. She has been active in Brooklyn society, and devoted much time to studying music, being a former member of the Walter Damrosch school.

Mr. Winger, who is the vice-president and general manager of the American Lithographic Company, is also interested in the publishing business, being treasurer of the Crowell Publishing Company and P. F. Collier & Son Company.

L. G. Beekman, former United States Marshal, and Mrs. Beekman, of Jersey City, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Margaret Evelyn Beekman, to Paul M. Fletcher, of 45 West Ninety-second Street.

Mr. and Mrs. John Morris Miller, of Newark, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Isabella Morris, to William Waters Stearns, son of Bishop Coeditor and Mrs. Wilson R. Stearns, also of Newark.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Greene at the Nursery and Child's Hospital on April 28. Mrs. Greene was Miss Constance Murray, daughter of Mrs. Henry Mills Alden and a sister of Mrs. Joyce Kilmer. Her marriage to Mr. Greene, a son of Dr. John Greene, of Colgate University, took place in 1917.

Through the courtesy of Mrs. Henry Drysdale Davis, "May Dance" will be held on Wednesday, May 12, at the Cosmopolitan Club, 135 East Fortieth Street, for the benefit of the Union Neighborhood School. Tickets at $5 each, which include supper and the use

The Issues of the Campaign

Governor Allen wrote this article at the request of The Tribune, in answer to the question: "What do you regard as the most important issues of the Presidential campaign?" The Tribune has addressed the same question to other leading candidates for the Republican nomination for President and expects to publish their answers.

By Henry J. Allen
Governor of Kansas

Obviously the overwhelming need presented by the next national campaign is to rescue the government from weak and extravagant hands, and place it again in position to direct the endeavors of the Republic along typical American lines.

This does not mean, however, that the campaign should rest alone upon carping criticism of the Democratic party, rich as is the opportunity for just analysis of that party's highly organized system of mismanagement. The Republican party will need to present to the people a constructive platform which will give definite promise of leadership in this confused hour of American life.

There will need to be a courageous and just stand upon the growing industrial warfare which has subjected the public for so many months to the waste and danger of what the radical leaders call "economic pressure." This is peculiarly a time in the history of all the political parties when the American people are expecting a platform which has not made an effort to bargain for the votes of any class. The party will need to pledge itself to a program which will give to labor the benefits which she has not been able to secure either from capital or through the methods of her own radical leaders, and the program will likewise need to foreshadow protection to the public and to employing capital. The government will be obliged to bear its share of responsibility for the proper safeguarding of all three members of the industrial triangle. The American public will no longer favor a situation which leaves it defenseless against the increasing wrongs perpetuated in the name of industrial warfare.

Profiteering Must Be Curbed

A solution should be found for the domestic problem which has grown up in the period of high inflation, and which has placed us all at the mercy of an unbridled era of profiteering.

A wide range of problems, both domestic and foreign, embracing foreign relations, tariffs, high cost of living, etc., demand the attention of statesmen. No party may pledge definite methods with which to solve all these problems, but it can pledge careful, constructive and courageous leadership.

The recklessness with which the government has expended the colossal revenues taken from the people during the war period has made it necessary for the strictest economy in public expenditures to save us from bankruptcy, and the party will disappoint the American people if it does not provide not only for some relief through the extension of war obligations over a longer period of

of bridge tables, may be had from Miss Francis Lockwood, 122 East Seventy-sixth Street, or from Mrs. Henry Alsop Riley, 850 Park Avenue. The patronesses include Mrs. Montague Platts, Mrs. Edward J. De Camp, Mrs. Donn Barber, Mrs. Joseph S. Auerbach, Mrs. Roy A. Rainey and Mrs. Julius F. Workum.

The committee in charge is made up of Miss Sarah Sturgis, Miss Marjorie Cleveland, Miss Katherine Bulkley, Miss Sarah Bulkley, Miss Carami Carroll, Miss Eleanor Landon, Miss Mabel Satterlee and many others.

Chinese Art Brings $22,381

Krupensky Relics Go at Auction in Anderson Galleries

The collection of Chinese art formed by Vassili Krupensky, former Russian Minister to Pekin, was concluded yesterday afternoon in the Anderson Galleries, Park Avenue and Fifty-ninth Street.

F. R. Kaldenberg bought a jade statuette for $1,000. Miss H. Connhan, an agent, bought a picture, "The Old Red Mill," by Fritz Thaulow, for $1,000. K. S. Balozian bought a Karabagh rug for $625 and H. H. E. Jahne bought a silk rug for $1,000. E. N. Holmes purchased a large woolen rug for $950.

The total for the day was $16,110.50. The total for the entire sale was $22,381.

Devonshire Party Quits

LONDON, May 1.—The Duke of Devonshire, Governor General of Canada, and the Duchess of Devonshire, who came to London for the marriage of their daughter, Lady Dorothy Cavendish, to Captain Harold MacMillan, last month, left London this morning for Liverpool, where they will board the steamer for the return to Canada.

Pittsburgh Has 588,193

WASHINGTON, May 1.—The population of Pittsburgh announced to-night by the Census Bureau is 588,193, an increase of 10.2 per cent in ten years.

Comptometer & Burroughs

Instruction Machines Rented, Inventories Figured.

F. Muriel Ranson
33 Church St., N. Y. Room 223-E.
2nd floor. Tel. 5170 Cortlandt.

Women Will Keep Both Parties Dry, Says Senator Owen

Neither Democrats Nor Republicans Will Dare to Indorse Wet Plank, He Tells Leaders at Meeting

The women voters will prevent the resurrection of John Barleycorn as a figure in the Presidential election, according to a statement made yesterday by Senator Robert L. Owen, of Oklahoma, addressing a meeting of the Committee of One Thousand Democratic Women at the Waldorf-Astoria.

"The presence of the woman voter will prevent either party putting a wet plank in the party platform," he said. "Personally I do not mind drinking a high ball now and then, but I would drink buttermilk all my life rather than see old John Barleycorn come to life again."

Senator Owen was delayed more than an hour before the meeting began, as the rival attractions of the Rubinstein "white breakfast" down the hall kept the audience practically at the zero number.

Mrs. John Sherwin Crosby scolded them roundly for this when she finally corraled enough to call it a meeting. "I met a fellow member of ours, who I thought was a good Democrat," she said, "and told her it was time for the meeting. 'But they're having such a good time in Rubinstein!' she cried. Well, I let her go, but I have my opinion of women who prefer frivolity to the serious study of the problems of their country."

Senator Owen, however, told her not to be discouraged; that from small beginnings great things grew, and he thought it was a privilege to address even a small group of women interested in politics.

He told the women they should not join their political parties as they did the church, "for life," but that they should feel that the party belonged to them and could be rebuked, if necessary, by a changed allegiance.

"The reason the progressive movement does not grow faster in this country is that the progressive minded folks are divided by this fetish of party loyalty," he said. "There are enough progressives in this country to carry any election if they would unite. Three-fourths of the people are progressive minded."

Mrs. Julia Saunders, leader of the Champ Clark boom among New York Democratic women, was not present at the meeting yesterday, but she sent out a statement in the evening declaring that her announcement on Clark's behalf had been received with great enthusiasm.

Senator Owen is among the favorite names whose names will be presented to the Democratic National Convention for the Presidency, but the matter was not referred to yesterday, save when Mrs. Alice Fisher Harcourt, the second speaker, extolled Senator Owen as one being "timber greater men are made of."

Mrs. Crosby announced that the women delegates and visitors to the Democratic convention would have a special train starting from New York on June 19, taking in all the sights on the way, including the Grand Canyon. They will return via Yellowstone Park, reaching New York on July 11.

Going On To-day

DAY

American Museum of Natural History; admission free.

Van Cortlandt Park; admission free.

The Aquarium; admission free.

Zooological Park; admission free.

Meeting of Unity Society; Hotel Astor, 2 p. m.

Meeting of Phi Sigma Delta; Hotel Astor, 2 p. m.

Meeting of Phi Sigma Sigma; Hotel Astor, 2 p. m.

Address by the Rev. Howard V. Vergin on "The Human Side of the Hammer"; Y. M. C. A., 5 West 125th Street, 4 p. m.

Services of First Church of Divine Science; Waldorf-Astoria, 11 a. m.

Convention of Israel Orphan Asylum; Cooper Union, 2 p. m.

Meeting of contributors of Montefiore Home and Hospital; Gun Hill Road, East 219th Street, near Jerome Avenue, 11 a. m.

Services of Colonial Order of the Acorn; Washington, St. Thomas's Church, Fifth Third Street and Fifth Avenue, 3:45 p. m.

"Does the Theater Menace America?" Will be the subject of Dr. Wise, at Carnegie Hall, 10:45 a. m.

NIGHT

Lecture by the Rev. T. J. Shealy, S. J., on "Spiritualism," under auspices of Laymen's League for Retreats and Social Studies; Lexington Theatre, 4 p. m.

Lecture by Mrs. Louise Wagner, Educational Alliance, 137 East Broadway, 8:15 p. m.

Lecture by John McCormack; Hippodrome, on "Reasonable Limits of Freedom of Speech and Action," Public School, 11 a. m.

Meeting and round-the-table discussion by Electric Society on "Love and Villains to Order"; Knights of Pythias Building, 8 p. m.

Advance Guard of Suffrage Emergency Corps Arrives

Dr. Grace Hebbard, of Wyoming, on Way to Aid Fight for Women's Vote in Connecticut; Says She Wants to Get First Sight of "Anti" Here

Dr. Grace Hebbard, of Laramie, Wyo., paid no attention to the skyscrapers when she arrived for the first time on Broadway last night. She expressed no desire to see either the Statue of Liberty or the Zoo. The first thing which stimulated her curiosity in New York was the headquarters of the National Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage.

"I never saw an anti-suffragist," she said last night at the Hotel McAlpin, where she was the first arrival of the "Suffrage Emergency Corps" on the way from the West to get woman suffrage ratified in Connecticut.

"You know out in Wyoming we have had woman suffrage for fifty years and there is no such thing as an anti-suffrage man in our state—much less a station this afternoon I saw a sign that read 'Anti-Suffrage Headquarters.' I made a note of the address, for I want to go around there and see what those women are like. I cannot imagine what they have to say for their point of view."

Dr. Hebbard said she hoped to make the Governor of Connecticut realize how the women of the West felt about the inevitability of woman suffrage, and what an honor it would be to his state to be the thirty-sixth state to ratify the Federal amendment.

"We hope to persuade Governor Holcomb that there is a real emergency facing the country in the delay in the Federal amendment," she said. "I am a professor of political science in our state university and I understand the Governor's scruples about calling a special session of the Legislature unless specified in the state constitution. I approve of conservatism, up to a certain point, but in this case I think the Governor will be justified in yielding now to public demand."

Dr. Hebbard is going to visit the home of her ancestors when she goes into Connecticut, as her family were among the Connecticut settlers of 1635 and supplied the state with two Governors.

The major part of the "Emergency Corps" were late in arriving yesterday. Mrs. Desha Breckinridge, of Kentucky, granddaughter of Henry Clay; Mrs. A. B. Stroup, of New Mexico;

149th Street and Walton Avenue, 8 p. m.

Hunger dinner of Great New York Fund for Relief of Sufferers in War Countries; Hotel Biltmore, 8:45 p. m.

Concert by Grand Opera Society of New York; Stuyvesant Neighborhood House, Stuyvesant and Ninth streets, 8:15 p. m.

Dinner of the Phi Beta Delta; Hotel Astor, 7 p. m.

Dance of Ray of Sunshine Club; Hotel Astor, 9 p. m.

Dinner by Mrs. Carry Chapman Catt to Western members of Emergency Suffrage Association; Hotel McAlpin.

Mass meeting to discuss "What Should America Do About Armenia?" Cathedral of St. John the Divine.

BOARD OF EDUCATION LECTURES

MANHATTAN

"Armenia and the Armenians," by Bedros K. Apelian; Public School 101, 111th Street, near Lexington Avenue; public forum.

F. Heyward Hunter Gives

Recital in Aeolian Hall

F. Heyward Hunter gave a song recital in Aeolian Hall yesterday afternoon. If we say that at the beginning of his entertainment he sang airs by Handel and Scarlatti, we want the verb understood in a Pickwickian sense—at least by those who know something about singing as an art.

The friends who encouraged him by their presence were not rapturous in their expressions of approval and the wistful were probably grieved. The experience is growing with every new exhibition of artistic immaturity as the season wanes.

Butter Falls 11 Cents; Livestock Also Cheaper

Potatoes Scarce, but Receipts of New Crop Vegetables Here Are Increasing

Butter dropped 11 cents a pound, wholesale, last week; the price of livestock went down materially and receipts of lambs and calves were particularly plentiful. Potatoes are scarce.

Eugene H. Porter, commissioner, at the New York office of the Division of Foods and Markets, said yesterday that new crop vegetables from the South are coming in and new green produce from Long Island and New Jersey also is arriving in large quantities.

The average price last week for a sack of domestic potatoes was $13.75. The market declined from $2 to $7 a hundredweight under last week's quotations on calves, and the price of lambs dropped from $2 to $5 a hundredweight.

Extra high score creamery butter was selling yesterday for 68½ cents a pound wholesale.

Eggs did not change much in price. The lower grades sold for 43 cents a dozen and up to 54 cents for the best eggs.

These reduced prices ought, so Mr. Porter says, to make themselves obvious this week to the retail consumer.

House Wants Navy Radio Open To Public Use for Two Years

WASHINGTON, May 1.—The navy's radio system, wherever located, would be open to transmission of commercial business messages, including press dispatches, for two years under a resolution ordered favorably reported today by the House Merchant Marine Committee as a substitute for the Senate measure. This use might be ended sooner on the certification by the Secretary of Commerce that available private stations were capable of handling the business.

Removal Announcement

OUR NEW ADDRESS IS

13 East 47th Street

Where we have greater facilities for conducting our increasing business.

Dempsey & Carroll,

Art Stationers and Engravers.

Forsythe The Waist House

Spring Dimities

R-16. One-button sport waist; white Dimity with Pique collar and cuffs... $5.00

R-17. White Dimity. Figue collar. Pleated Dimity Cuffs... $7.50

R-18. New tailored White Dimity, fastened with two pearl buttons, with plated Linen Ruffles... $5.75

Catalogue R on Request.

John Forsythe & Sons, 3 West 42d St.

No connection with any other house using the name of Forsythe

CAMMEYER

Stamped on a Shoe Means Standard of Merit

34th St. New York

Extraordinary Offering

Women's Pumps and Oxfords

Consisting of Early Spring Models, All Taken From Our Regular Stock and Reduced

From $2.60 to $6.00 a Pair

7.85

Formerly Sold to $14.00

Included are Oxfords and Pumps with Military, "Petite" French and Louis XVI. Heels, developed in Cocoa Calf, Gun Metal Calf, Brown Kid, Bronze and White Kid, Patent Leather and White Linen, in All the Newest Styles.

Women's Pure Silk Hosiery

Black, White, Navy and Cordovan, Fancy Striped and with inset effect. Formerly sold to $3.75 pair. Special 2.95

No Exchanges

No C.O.D.'s

DOBBS

For golfing in the early Spring an appropriate costume consists of a Dobbs Top-Jacket, a Dobbs Shirt, a Dobbs Skirt and the new Dobbs Silk Tam o' Shanter. ~ These are exclusive designs of the Dobbs Shop

Six twenty Fifth Avenue
3 West Fifth Street

Removal Notice

My uptown store, formerly located at 539 Fifth Avenue, has moved to larger quarters at

549 FIFTH AVENUE

One door North of 45th St.

Paul A. Meyrowitz

"The Fifth Avenue Optician"